

ARIZONA HISTORICAL SOCIETY BOARD MEMBER

James Snitzer

His interest is historical photos and documents relating to the White Mountains of Arizona. He has created digital photo presentations for local libraries and have printed and mounted old photos for local museums. He provides a free service to the community where he scans historical photos, documents and books. In addition, he maintains a private collection of several thousand files (a file can be a single image or an entire book) relating to the History of the White Mountains area. Those files are available for historical research.
