Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use" that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.
- ❖ It is the responsibility of the researcher to obtain copyright permission, if copyright resides outside AHS. The publishing party assumes all responsibility for any infringement of the United States copyright law. By signing this form, the user agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Arizona Historical Society, their officers, employees and agents from and against all claims, demands, costs, and expenses incurred by copyright infringement or any other legal or regulatory cause of action arising from the use of AHS materials.
