SPEAK UP! The Arizona Historical Society wants you to add your voice to history!

Help us imagine the future of our museums and the future of our state.

How we collect, build exhibits, and interpret history are constantly changing. When Arizonans living in the future look back, what will stand out from this time period? What should we know now to preserve for future generations? Use your voice to contribute to history!

What historical events from your lifetime are important?

What “current” items do you think the Arizona Historical Society should collect for future museum displays?
Who is an Arizonan?

Do you have any special memories from the 1960’s, 70s, 80s, 90s, 2000s? Tell us about them.
Tell us what changes you would like to see in Arizona in the next year, 5 years, 10 years.

When did you move to Arizona?

Where were you born in Arizona?
Do you feel that people and cultures on both sides of the Arizona/Mexico border are connected? What thoughts do you have about the border?

Is Arizona history important? Why?
What/whose histories do you want to learn about?

What Arizonan inspires you?
What events in recent history will have the biggest impact on our future?

What artifacts do you want to see?
What are the most important events since 1970?

I want to have a conversation about....
